4 HURT WHEN CARS CRASH AT INTERSECTION

Four young people were injured and damage totaled $750 when a 17-year-old motorist attempted to pass two cars stopped by a traffic light at the intersection of Lincoln Ave. and Carlisle St. Sunday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, borough police said today.

According to police, Dennis Overbaugh, 17, Hanover, was driving a sedan north on Carlisle St. when he passed two cars which had stopped for the light. At the same moment, police said, Glenn Buckley, Aspers R. 1, driving a convertible, turned into Carlisle St. from Lincoln Ave. having the green light in his favor. The two cars collided.

Damage to the Buckley car totaled $500 and to the Overbaugh vehicle, $250.

Mary Swope, 16, Bonneauville, suffered cuts on the head, chin and knee when she was thrown against the windshield of the Overbaugh car, shattering it.

Others Are Injured

Betty Mathews, 17, Gettysburg R. 4, suffered a cut leg; John Mathews, 7, Gettysburg R. 4, had a head injury and Ruthette Plank, 16, Gettysburg R. 4, had a cut leg and a head injury when they were thrown from the Buckley car to the road when a door opened. All were treated at the Warner Hospital.

Police are continuing their investigation.

The accident was one of two investigated by borough police over the weekend. Saturday night they arrested Frank Lucca, of Philadelphia, on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquors after his car had crashed into a car owned by Mrs. George Bender, 449 W. Middle St., which was parked on Buford Ave. Damage totaled $500. Zucca pleaded guilty this morning before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehor and was returned to jail in default of $500 bail. He will appear later before Justice court.

The "bunny" costume worn by the sorority member was white, with the ears pink lined, and white fur-lined.

Kendlehart Shift Has Been Held Up

J. William Kendlehart Jr., Adams County superintendent for the state Department of Highways, continued in his position here today despite prior orders to report to Carbon County for duty there.

Kendlehart was notified by the department to disregard those instructions for the time being. There were no further particulars given.

Kendlehart, said to be the object of dislike by one county political figure, while backed by the county Republican chairman, John H. Bashehor, and others, was originally given orders to report for duty in Berks County. While he was in the office at Harrisburg receiving those orders they were rescinded and his transfer to Carbon County was ordered. Locally it was believed that political forces in Carbon County came to the defense of their superintendent who was to be placed here. Similarly action in Berks saved their superintendent.

EASTER DAWN SERVICE HELD AT SEMINARY

The annual Easter dawn service held Sunday morning at 6 o'clock in the Church of the Abiding Presence, Seminary campus under the sponsorship of the Adams County Christian Endeavor Union, was well attended.

An organ prelude played by Mrs. Clair Settle, Biglerville, opened the service. It was followed with the congregational hymn "Crown Him With Many Crowns." The invocation was offered by the Rev. Herman Stuempfle, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church. Psalm 95 was read in unison and the Gloria Patri followed. A cornet solo, "The Holy City," was played by Donald Wright, Bendersburg. The Rev. Mr. Stuempfle was in charge of the devotional service.

The article said "the copperheads have taken over that historic battlefield . . . hordes of the modern-day copperheads infest the battlefield, so much so that officials of the National Shrine have taken precautionary measures to prevent injury to tourists."

This is an exaggeration of the first water, the figment of a distorted picture.

Snakes have been on the battlefield for years, but not any more than would be found in any other wooded area or near Harrisburg. No one has ever been bitten by a snake on the battlefield within the memory of your reporter and that goes back 30 years.

There is no record at the park office of any one ever having seen any number of snakes.

A. A. Plans Meeting Here Next Sunday

An "informational" meeting on Alcoholics Anonymous will be held next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Albert J. Lentz American Legion Home, Baltimore St.

A spokesman for the organization said the public is invited to attend the session at which several members of A. A. will explain how the organization saves persons who have become "hopeless alcoholics" and will offer their own experience that as a result of Alcoholics Anonymous, such persons can resume life as useful citizens.

Members of A. A. from York, Harrisburg and other nearby communities are arranging the meeting to acquaint Gettysburg residents with the work and learn from them if there are any Gettysburgians who may need their assistance.

State police reported that the Easter weekend traffic was heaviest over Route 15, north and south, while vehicular travel on Route 30, east and west, was "heavy but not exceptional."

The borough police said the flow of traffic through Lincoln Square, Friday and Saturday, was "terrific." Chief of Police Jack Bartlett reported no particular problems of snarled traffic. He said that almost the entire force was on duty Saturday afternoon and evening.

Tapers Off Sunday Night

Traffic continued heavy until Sunday evening, around 8 o'clock, and diminished steadily until this morning when several bus-loads of high school students arrived simultaneously about 10 o'clock.

Clear and sunny skies, Sunday, boosted tourist and local travel over the Battlefield and National Cemetery to a "steady stream," according to Dr. J. Walter Coleman, battlefield superintendent, as the 3000 tourists came.

Following the talks a question period will be held and coffee and cakes served.

Driver Charged After Crash In Hanover

Charges of going through a stop sign were filed against Frank C. Feeser, 16, of Hanover, R. 2, after Hanover police said his car collided with a machine operated by Charles S. Stull, 43, of New Oxford, R. 1, Sunday at 8:35 a.m. at the intersection of East Walnut

General Hershey Here

The National Museum reported visitors from the District of Columbia, Canada, England, Australia, and Switzerland, and from 29 states.

Among the tourists, Friday, was General Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director.

A number of incidents proved that Gettysburg continues to be a crossroads of the world—a place where friends meet.

Saturday, within an hour, two families from Canada met at the National Museum, and shortly thereafter another pair of Canadian families got together. Neither knew beforehand that the other had planned to visit the National Shrine, here.

Sunday, Mrs. A. J. Rogers, Kalamazoo, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deeler, also of Kalamazoo, met at the Museum.

Joseph Rosenfeld, director of the Museum, said: "Visits here by school groups is ahead of other years." He added that a peak will be reached this week when 35 high school groups arrive in Gettysburg.

LEGIONNAIRES HOLD EGG HUNT AT LITTLESTOWN

Several hundred children of the community participated in the annual Easter egg hunt on Easter Sunday afternoon, sponsored by the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion. The hunt was held on the property adjoining the Legion Home. One hundred twenty dozen eggs were hidden, and the eggs were prepared by the Legion Auxiliary.

The children who participated were divided into two age groups, preschool age and school children up to 12 years. The prize eggs featured included 125 and the prizes were donated by the local merchants. An egg roll followed the hunt and was in charge of Legionnaire James W. Fager. Cash awards were received by the winners of the egg rolling contest.

HEAT DEATHS ARE PROBED

WASHINGTON (AP) — The heat-stroke deaths of two Marine corps officer candidates last year caused a House committee to recommend stiff physical examinations for trainees fresh from civilian life.

The House Armed Services Committee, in a report made public last night, recommended also that the corps give "the highest priority" to studies dealing with susceptibility to heat or sunstroke.

The two officer candidates, William E. Malone Jr., of Peñuelah, N. Y., and Joseph J. Conwell Jr., of Greensburg, Pa., died at Quantico, Va., last summer. The House committee investigated the situation at the request of Sen. Lehman (D-N.Y.) and Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.), after parents of the two men complained of the treatment their sons received.

The committee made its recommendations, but said "we do not feel that any particular individual was at fault or guilty of neglect in the cases under consideration."

Over a hundred members and friends participated in the Easter Sunday Holy Communion service in Centenary Methodist Church yesterday at 10:30 a.m. The choir sang a special Easter anthem entitled "Hark, the Easter Bells." The pastor, the Rev. Harvey B. Simons, presented an Easter meditation on the theme "The Resurrection."

Karen Jeanne Pippin, daughter of Jack H. and Dorothy L. (Boyd) Pippin, Washington, D. C., was baptized following the Easter Sunday morning worship service in St. John's Lutheran Church by the pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns. The parents were the baptismal sponsors. The child was born December 6, 1953, at the Garfield Memorial Hospital, Washington.

The Girls' 4-H Club of Littlestown will meet on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Emory Gitt, near town. All girls over 12 years of age are invited to attend the meeting and join the club.

Littlestown Auto In Hanover Crash

An automobile operated by Paul A. Yohe, Littlestown, R. 1, was in collision with a car owned by Robert D. Lepo and parked in front of his home, 108 Philadelphia St., Hanover, at 1:30 a.m. Saturday.

Yohe, according to police, went to police headquarters to report the accident. A short time later his car was in collision with a highway marker in Center Square. Police said Yohe became abusive to the investigating patrolman and he was charged with disorderly conduct. Yohe posted a $50 bond with Justice of the Peace George A. Lippy, Hanover, for a hearing today.

CONFERENCE HOPES DIM

OTTAWA (CP)—A gloomy Canadian delegation leaves today for the Geneva Conference on Korea and Indochina.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

MAKING OTHER PEOPLE GOOD

It always amuses me to see some people trying to "make over" someone else. It has always been a wish with me that I might make myself over, and that each day of my life I am interested in adding to the knowledge and happiness of others but I would not, could not, make them in my image! I would lose a possible friend if I tried it.

People are themselves. They want "no prompting, please!" Nothing is so interesting and exciting as the personality of a human being. Any attempt on our part to change that personality, or to amend it, is sure to end in failure. Thank God we can learn something most valuable by taking note of our failures in others without disturbing their equilibrium!

It was Thoreau's idea that it was more important to make himself good than to try to do so with others. The happier we make others the surer they are to radiate the good within them, and at the same time to give emphasis to our own good. It's God's job to make other people good. We can, on the other hand, search for the good, and the good only, in others, and it will seem like being on a high mountain and viewing everything beautiful from there. The Bible puts it in these words: "Judge not that ye be not judged."

If we only look for the good in others it is surprising how much we can discover. More than we ever suspected! People say such wonderful things about a human being after he is dead. Why can't they say them while his hearing is good, in life, and while he can know about it?

We are the sole authors of our own good. No "ghost writer" can share in it. I have a friend who is forever saying nice things about others. People love him. It is the secret of his undying popularity.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Patterns of Behavior."

Just Folks

HONOR

Nothing matters only this:

That the fight you made was fair.

Goals of glory you may miss.

Honors you may fail to wear.

But if you have done your best,

You have met the real test.

Not in victory alone

Is the worth of mortals told.

God has never made it known

That he sent us here for gold.

We must dare for what is right.

But we need not win the fight.

Nothing matters save that we shall not sell our souls for gain;

Shall not, for the victory.

On our honor place a stain.

Better is it not to win than to triumph, black with sin.

Take the failure if you must.

Think no more about the prize.

If you battle has been just.

You have conquered in His eyes.

You shall rest in peace at night

If you've made an honest fight.

News Analyst Says Indochina

Will Be Lost To Reds Unless West Stands Firm At Geneva

Editor's Note—William L. Ryan, AP specialist on Communist affairs, has reported the cold war from the Soviet Union and many other countries on four continents. A few weeks ago he went to Indochina to see the hot war involving communism on one side and the free world on the other. He then flew to Singapore to write his findings free of censorship.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
SINGAPORE (#)—In North Indochina today you find it difficult to shake off the feeling you are standing by and watching a nation slowly die.

Viet Nam can be saved, you are told. But all the solutions involve time—and time is running out in Indochina.

In Tonkin in the north and Cochin China in the south, I attempted to sift all shades of opinion—French, Vietnamese and American, optimistic and pessimistic, the wishfully thinking and the bluntly realistic. I could only conclude: Unless the West holds fast at the Geneva Conference, opening next Monday, Indochina eventually will become another Communist-dominated people's democracy.

Pertinent Questions
These questions are uppermost in many minds in Saigon and Hanoi:

Is Viet Nam to be another Korea? Can it be saved short of powerful military intervention? Is it in fact the sputtering fuse of World War III?

There are some encouraging signs on the horizon, but they are too few to warrant any pleasant optimism. There is a long hard road ahead for the French and the Vietnamese if the country is to survive. If it does not, the best American military opinion is the West can write off most of South-East Asia in the vast political and economic war.

Why are the French and Vietnamese, with so much superiority in equipment, such vastly greater firepower and such an economic advantage in Indochina still largely on the defensive after 7½ years of dreary jungle war?

Watson is Viet Nam to be another Korea? Can it be saved short of powerful military intervention? Is it in fact the sputtering fuse of World War III?

Eisenhower acted after Albert M. Cole, chief of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, disclosed that one unnamed official involved in the inquiry has been accused of receiving money for favors, presumably to builders.

The President's move, announced at his vacation headquarters here, came as the Banking Committee was starting an inquiry in Washington into affairs of the scandal-shocked Federal Housing Administration.

Eisenhower's order gives the committee access to income tax returns in connection with FHA loans under Section 606 of the National Housing Act. That section covers insured loans for apartment projects.

The order does not apply to that phase of the inquiry dealing with small loans for home improvement.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, made public the President's executive order on the matter without elaboration.

The Banking Committee's investigation and one by the Housing and Home Finance Agency were touched off last week after Eisenhower accepted the resignation of FHA Chief Guy T. O. Holliday and impounded the agency's files and records.

SAYS HEALTH CLINICS HELP MENTALLY ILL

HARRISBURG (AP) — Community mental health clinics were credited by a state official today with doing much toward holding down the number of patients at Pennsylvania's state mental hospitals.

"Community clinics are going a long way toward meeting our needs," Dr. Hilding A. Bengs, commissioner of the welfare department's bureau of mental health.

Statistics, he said, cannot be brought forth at this moment to show how many cases are prevented from reaching the hospital stage.

"But the important thing," Bengs added, "is that clinics help bring about recognition, prevention and treatment of mental disease at an early stage."

In this way, he explained, clinics for mental health diagnoses have now come to be accepted just as are inoculation for small pox and numerous preventatives of other diseases.

Due to new techniques and early treatment of mental illness, the average length of stay at Pennsylvania's 17 mental institutions now is only five months compared with nine to 10 months a decade ago.

There are now 16 full-time independent community mental health clinics around the state. State and federal grants-in-aid are relayed to them by the division of community service within the State Bureau of Mental Health.

State funds given over to the clinics amount to 70 per cent of the division's biennial budget of $300,000, Bengs said.

Most are child guidance centers but a number take care of children and adults both. The commonwealth's part in the program was initiated three and a half years ago although some of the institutions had been in existence on the local level since the 1920's.

"In the prevention of mental illness," Bengs said, "most efforts begin with treating behavior problems in children."

Therefore about one-half of the persons treated at the clinics are children, he added.

Among the cities served in this way, he listed Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Reading, Erie, Easton, Bethlehem, Wilkes-Barre, Johnstown and York.

When a copperhead snake is seen in the thickly wooded area it is a rare occasion," said Dr. Coleman.

The exaggerated Harrisburg article continues: "The copperheads are so dangerous, in fact, at Devil's Den, that children who delight in climbing over and about the giant stones, creeping into cave-like apertures and dropping over precipices (we have never seen these around) must no longer enjoy their favorite sport."

That is also a gross misstatement. If the author of that exaggerated piece had been at Devil's Den over the weekend he would have been amazed by the number of children who were enjoying themselves there.

The Harrisburg article asks this question: "What can be done to safeguard the thousands of visitors to the Battlefield Shrine?"

That question must have been sucked out of the imagination of one who had probably never visited the battlefield. The truth is that no one has ever asked that question, because there was never any occasion to ask it. The danger never existed.

The entire article is a smear of a sacred shrine, a false warning, uncalled for and without the basis of fact.

Therefore about one-half of the persons treated at the clinics are children, he added.

Among the cities served in this way, he listed Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Reading, Erie, Easton, Bethlehem, Wilkes-Barre, Johnstown and York.

Had Changed His Mind

Dickenson was one of the 23 American POWs who first refused repatriation under the Korean armistice terms, but later he and one other POW changed their minds and came home.

Col. C. Robert Bard, the prosecutor, said he planned to take a week to present his case and that he would summon about 40 ex-POWs who were with Dickenson at Prison Camp No. 5 at Pyotkong, Korea.

The defense attorney, Col. Guy Emery, a retired Army officer, said he was undecided as to whether Dickenson would be put on the stand to testify in his own behalf.

At the outset, Bard planned to introduce a number of documents and tape recordings of Chinese broadcasts, monitored by the Army, in which Dickenson is said to have spoken on behalf of the Reds.

Bard Is Witness

The first major witness was listed as Cpl. Thomas A. Carrick of Blacksburg, Va., who shared a foxhole with Dickenson and was captured with him Nov. 5, 1950. Both were sent to Pyotkong.

The two formal charges lodged against Dickenson accused him of: "Having, without proper authority, communicated with and held intercourse with the enemy directly and indirectly."

"Having, for the purpose of securing favorable treatment by his captors, acted without proper authority in a manner contrary to law, custom and regulation, to the detriment of other persons held by the enemy as prisoners."

This second point is the one that breaks precedent. No one ever has been brought to trial under it before.

Dickenson has maintained that whatever he may have done as a POW was under Communist pressure.

ASKS U.N. ACTION IN INDOCHINA TO AVOID CONFLICT

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kuchel (D-Calif.) proposed today that America seek United Nations action and avoid any single-handed military attempt to save Indochina from the Communists.

Amid a growing controversy over Vice President Nixon's statement that this country might send troops to Indochina as a last resort, Kuchel said, "I don't believe we can put fires out all over the world single-handed."

"We ought to take the case before the United Nations and ask for united action there," he said in an interview.

Pledged Joint Effort

"The 16 nations that signed the Korean truce," he said, "pledged themselves to a joint effort to prevent aggression and our allies should be called upon for help."

Nixon told the American Society of Newspaper Editors last Friday he thought French withdrawal from Indochina unlikely, but that if that happened and other means failed the United States might have to send troops. France so far has opposed submitting the Indochina matter to the United Nations.

Although Nixon's statement indicated to many in Congress that the administration is resolved to hold Indochina even at the cost of going it alone, State Department officials insisted that the basic policy is one of "united action" such as Secretary of State Dulles called for in a March 29 speech.

No New Policy

In a statement issued Saturday, the department said Nixon had "enunciated no new U. S. policy toward Indochina," Secretary of State Dulles, returning to Washington yesterday from a brief vacation, at Lake Ontario, had no comment. Despite this, there are reports that the administration asked for but did not receive assurances from Democratic as well as Republican leaders that if the worst comes to the worst they would back single-handed intervention in Indochina.

Democrats were said to have backed away from giving in advance what some of them called a blank check for presidential action.

Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, said in a weekend interview he is confident the President will ask prior approval by the lawmakers if it becomes advisable to use any American combat units in Indochina—including air and sea task forces.

He had served as chairman of the local Democratic committee.

"Unparalleled Coverage" Given By AP In Last Year, Board Says At Annual Meeting Of Directors

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press produced during the past year "the most ambitious series of enterprise stories in AP history" in an ever-broadening effort "to meet the news," the Board of Directors said today.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, was the speaker for the annual luncheon in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

"Unparalleled Coverage"

The Board of Directors said

"nothing is more significant in the increasing value and usefulness of the service" than stories that explain, interpret and background the news. To do this, the board said.

"The AP went to the news fronts of the world at large for explanation, interpretation, background."

It cited "unparalleled coverage of the Russian scene"—largely through stories by AP staffers Edy Gilmore and Thomas Whitney on their return here after years in Moscow, and by William L. Ryan, AP foreign news analyst, who made a 6,000-mile unescorted tour of Russia.

Other Examples

Other examples of AP enterprise cited by the board included:

A 14-part, 30,000-word series exploring Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's until late tonight.

personality, methods, aims and controversies; a series on the new polio vaccine; a daily report on economic conditions by business news analyst Sam Dawson during a cross-country tour; an explanation and analysis of the IndoChina war, and twice-yearly surveys on censorship throughout the world.

The directors described membership cooperation in the exchange of news as "the backbone of the organization" and said it "has improved notably in recent years."

"Through their state associations, and through national organizations of managing editors and radio news directors," the report said, "the members not only are supplying their local news fully and promptly. They are also taking part increasingly in AP affairs, and helping to improve the service."

More Members

The board noted that members are now using more AP services than ever before. It said the AP

Newsfeatures service "has been pepped up and built up."

Extension of the use of radio-teletype and radiophoto has resulted in speedier news and picture delivery abroad.

The AP serves more than 3,800

subscribers outside the United States, a gain of more than 650.

Newspaper membership in the United States totals 1,738, a gain of 7, and radio and television membership totals 1,253, a gain of 83.

IKE AND DULLES CONFER TODAY ON INDOCHINA

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles confer here today on American efforts to bolster Indochina against the Reds and save the rest of Southeast Asia from Communist aggression.

The President sent his private plane, The Columbine, to Washington for Dulles, who will give a first-hand report on his London and Paris negotiations last week to work out a Pacific defense alliance.

Dulles planned to lunch with the President at his Easter holiday headquarters at the Augusta National Golf Club, then fly back to Washington in the late afternoon.

Nixon Controversy

One aspect of the Eisenhower-Dulles conference may be the controversy touched off in Congress by Vice President Nixon's statement Friday, in reply to a hypothetical question, that American troops might have to be sent into Indochina if the French withdraw. Nixon prefaced his answer, however, by saying he doesn't think the French will pull out.

Eisenhower plans to fly back to Washington Thursday afternoon for a brief informal talk at a meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, then go on to New York for a major address that night before the American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

The President's headquarters announced over the weekend that he will call on American Newspapers to help "transform an age of atomic hysteria and horror into an age of international understanding and cooperative peace." The speech will be broadcast nationwide.

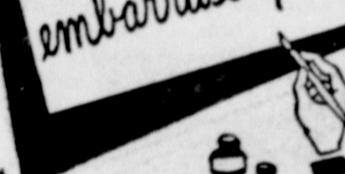

Ike Concerned

Hagerty told newsmen the President will say that misconceptions of the aims and aspirations of the United States, as well as those of other free nations, reported and circulated here and abroad, often cause needless misunderstanding and friction between the government and the French.

10,000 ATTEND SUNRISE SERVICES

By The Associated Press

Near perfect weather yesterday brought out unusually large numbers of Pennsylvanians to attend sunrise and church worship services and to join in traditional Easter parades.

The largest of the sunrise services was held in Philadelphia with an estimated 10,000 attending the service held in a North Philadelphia rural-urban setting. Later an estimated 70,000 joined in the annual promenade at Rittenhouse Square.

Other sunrise services were held in scattered cities and smaller communities and pontifical masses were celebrated in Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburgh by Roman Catholic clergy, including Archbishop John F. O'Hara of Philadelphia.

HAPPY EASTER FOR PRESIDENT AND HIS FAMILY

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—It was a happy Easter for all the Eisenhowers, from the President and the First Lady right on through to their youngest grandchild in her perky new bonnet.

The grandchildren—David, 6, Barbara Anne, 4, and Susan, 2—started the day at the Little White House with a rousing egg hunt which the President got up to watch shortly after 8 a.m.

The grownups went to church later, and when the President got home he and David put on their "little stunt," as Grandfather Eisenhower termed it. It went like this:

Went To Church

The President, a big grin on his face, clapped his hands smartly. David pulled open his navy blue suit coat in a twinkling and whipped from his belt—with buckle inscribed "Smokey"—a man size six-shooter cap gun.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower had just come from 9 a.m. worship at the Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church, and they were dressed in their Easter best. So were their son John, an Army major, his wife Barbara, and the First Lady's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud.

Mrs. Eisenhower wore a white straw hat with a flat crown and a wide curving brim edged with navy blue grosgrain and with tabs the same color in back, a Sally Victor number.

ments and the free peoples of the world.

Eisenhower reportedly is deeply concerned about adverse reactions in some friendly foreign capitals to the United States' development and testing of the hydrogen bomb. He also is said to be concerned about such matters as India's criticism of this country for granting military aid to Pakistan.

Republican organization candidates, headed by Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood for governor, start on a tour to confer with county leaders in 59 of the state's 67 counties in the next 10 days.

Sen. George M. Leader, Democratic organization candidate for governor, appears tonight on a Harrisburg television program (capital correspondents). Then he will set out on a tour of Eastern counties.

Dr. William D. McClelland, Allegheny County coroner, opposing Leader for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, planned a visit to Philadelphia on Wednesday. He possibly will go to Allentown and Scranton on Thursday.

Wood will be accompanied on his tour by GOP organization-backed candidates Atty. Gen. Frank F. Truscott, for lieutenant governor; Mrs. Gaynelle M. Dixon, for secretary of internal affairs and Judge George W. Griffith, Cambria County, and Ralph T.

Sees Sovereignty For Germany Soon

NEW YORK (AP)—James B. Conant, U. S. high commissioner for Germany, says he expects Western Germany to obtain "essential sovereignty" by "July 1 or within a couple of months of that date."

He says he feels optimistic about the end of that country's "occupational status," which will depend on final ratification of the European Defense Community treaty.

Conant's views were given to newsmen yesterday at Idlewild Airport, where he landed on his way to Washington to report to administration leaders and the Senate.

Measuring but 36'x26', this house can be built on a 60-foot lot; of course, you can use a larger lot if you prefer more land around your home. Try to place the house so that the large picture window in the living room will look out on an attractive view as possible.

Cubage of the house itself is 19,000 feet; of the garage, 4,000 feet. If you do not want an attached garage you can, of course, have a detached one constructed in its place. However, by having the garage attached to the back porch, as in the accompanying plan, you reap the benefits of a protected side entrance to the garage. If you prefer, you can have the garage built at some later date rather than when the house is constructed.

Actually the front entrance opens directly on the 21'x13' living room. But the large coat closet, just to the left of the door, creates the impression that there is an entry hall.

Bumps Solve Problem That Stopped Cops

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Carol Downing, 3, put her finger into the slot of a drugstore chewing gum machine. It stuck there.

Bystanders couldn't get it out. Neither could the crew of a police ambulance. So the gum machine was sawed off and, with Carol, was loaded into the ambulance.

As the ambulance sped to a hospital, street bumps jiggled the machine free of the finger. Carol was taken home.

Continue Probe Of Fatal Plane Crash

PHILIPSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A Pennsylvania state police aeronautical inspector today continued a probe into the cause of a plane crash which claimed the life of a Clarion County pilot late last week.

The body of Leonard Dolby Jr., 26, of Clarion, Pa., was found Saturday in the wreckage of his plane in the "rattlesnake" region of the Allegheny Mountain range 13 miles west of here.

Dolby had been missing since shortly after taking off Thursday night from the Lock Haven airport, five miles from the crash scene.

Cpl. Earl Moore, state police aeronautical inspector, said Dolby apparently was crossing the mountain at a low altitude and did not see it because of fog.

He said the mountain has an elevation of about 2,200 feet at the spot where the crash occurred. The plane struck some trees and crashed beyond.

Vitamins Easy To Take In Home Garden Salad

Earliest Loose Heading Lettuce Matures in 60 Days.

Nutritionists stress the use of "green, leafy vegetables" as a source of vitamins not only for children, but for adults as well.

You can follow this prescription in a most delightful way by serving at least once every day a tossed salad, made of vegetables fresh picked from the home garden.

Children quickly learn to like the daily salad course, and so acquire a healthful habit which will improve their appetites and health all through life. In all civilized countries, a green salad is considered essential to the perfect dinner menu.

Leaf lettuce is preferred by most chefs over head lettuce for salads. It is also far richer in vitamins. It comes in two types—the butter leaves, and the crisp leaves. The butter leaves are thicker, and darker green, with finer flavor, the experts say. Crisp leaves are lighter green again; and the Chinese cabbage leaves are delicious. Chinese cabbage may be grown in the spring, with rich soil and an early start. But in midsummer, it always runs to seed. A late crop has no such tendency, and heads are easily produced in the fall, from plants started in late June.

All leaf crops demand rich soil. They must grow fast without check, otherwise the leaves are tough and

PRESS GUILD PLANS PAPER

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—American Newspaper Guild (CIO) members striking Wilkes-Barre's two daily publications are planning a newspaper of their own, the international guild president said last night.

Joseph Collis, who also is assistant managing editor of the Wilkes-Barre Morning Record as well as one of the negotiators for the Guild in the 13-day-old strike, said the guild local 120, had already secured some mechanical equipment for the publication of a paper.

He said advertising would be sought but that details of the nature of the paper or the date when it would begin publishing were not settled.

The strike, by 180 guild members, has left Wilkes-Barre without a daily paper.

At issue in arriving at a new contract are wages, vacations and arbitration procedure. The arbitration question is believed to be the key one.

Collis said that at the last negotiating session, however, all issues were still open. He said a further meeting with management had not been set.

Hagerty Previews Eisenhower Speech To ANPA On Thursday

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (P)—White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, in an unusual preview, has explained what President Eisenhower will say in a New York speech Thursday night to the American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

Hagerty told newsmen: "The President will say that misconceptions of the aims and aspirations of America as well as those of other free nations, reported and circulated here and abroad, often cause needless misunderstandings and frictions between the governments and the peoples of the free world."

Eisenhower himself, Dulles and Vice President Nixon in the past few months have made statements which caused confusion and required later clarification. Some of the statements even appeared contradictory.

Nixon's Speeches

Nixon, in a nationwide TV and radio broadcast March 13, talked where the administration's "new look" in meeting Communist aggression abroad and said:

"We decided we would not fall into . . . traps. And so we adopted a new plan . . . rather than let the Communists nibble us to death all over the world in little wars, we would reply in the future primarily on our massive, mobile, retaliatory power which we could use at our own discretion against the major sources of aggression at times and places that we can choose."

On April 16 Nixon spoke to the American Society of Newspaper Editors and in answer to a question said: The United States might have to send troops into Indochina if the French quit fighting the Communists in there.

Many Explanations

Not necessarily, Dulles said. He said he wanted to emphasize in his Jan. 12 talk not the word "instantly" so much as the word "capacity" to retaliate instantly.

Meanwhile in March Eisenhower told news conference this country would not get into a war unless Congress declared it.

Dulles, in a news conference and a magazine article, said under some circumstances, such as an attack on American allies in Europe, Eisenhower could order a in the very kind of little war which might "nibble us to death" against which Nixon cautioned a month before.

The State Department issued a statement. Without naming Nixon, it said he was only "stating a course of possible action which he was personally prepared to support under a highly unlikely hypothesis."

But what then did Nixon mean in his March 13 talk when he mentioned this country's "massive, mobile, retaliatory power which we could use at our own discretion against the major sources of aggression?"

Used Dulles' Words

The very words he used—"massive" and "retaliatory"—were right out of a speech Dulles made last Jan. 12.

In that one Dulles talked of this country's "capacity" to retaliate "instantly" and "massively" if the Communists attacked anywhere.

1,000 Pct. Back Of McCarthy"

Thomas, one-time chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, has based most of his campaign on support of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his objectives and methods. He is running against the incumbent Rep. William N. Widnall, for the Republican nomination in the 7th district. Widnall is backed by the party at state and local levels.

Thomas, 59, served seven terms in the House before he was convicted of padding his payroll while in office. He served a nine-month prison term and was pardoned in 1952.

In his comeback campaign, he says he is "1,000 per cent" behind Sen. McCarthy.

Widnall says he favors "fair procedures" in congressional probes and pledges full support of President Eisenhower's programs.

Clifford P. Cse is the Republican candidate for senator. Rep. Charles R. Howell is the Democratic candidate. Republican Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson is not seeking re-election.

Norwegian Officials Record Mass Exodus

OSLO (P)—Norwegian emigration to foreign countries set a new post-war record in 1952 with nearly one out of every 1,000 Norwegians settling abroad, police records showed here.

Emigrants included 1,535 men and 1,423 women. Nearly two thirds of the total, or 1,988 persons settled in The United States, while 906 Norwegians found new homes in Canada.

counterattack without waiting for Congress.

At another news conference March 17 Eisenhower tried to explain what he meant the first time by saying that if this country was attacked he wouldn't have to wait for Congress.

Andy Seminick of Cincinnati batted .279 and hit 14 home runs against southpaw pitching in 1953.
